BLUE AND WHITE SEXTET TRAMPLES OVER HORSEMEN

Panther Takes Lead In State Hockey Series By Winning 3-0.

CAPT. KELLEY SCORES ONCE IN EACH PERIOD

Foote, Crocker, Kelley Star In Decisive Victory Over Cadets.

By WARD S. YUNKER

Last Wednesday on the home rink, the Middlebury hockey team engaged in their first home game and incidently in their first game of the State Championship Series and succeeded in handing Norwich a 3 to 0 defeat. As Norwich had previously defeated Vermont, the Panther stands alone at the top of the heap in the State Series. Although crippled by sickness, the Blue and White pucksters skated rings around the Cadets and at no time was the outcome of the struggle in doubt. Middlebury scored once in each period and each time it was Captain Kelley, who steered the puck into the Norwich goal.

The Middlebury sextet was without the services of Huntington, who is in the hospital with pneumonia, and McLeod, who is laid up with pleurisy. Jason was unable to play because of a hard cold, while Crocker was not in too good shape, but played a real good game. Coach Clogston was in such a bad predicament that he pressed Guarnaccia and Schmidt, two football stars, into service.

From start to finish it was all Middlebury, and the closeness of the score does not do justice to the Blue and White team. Foote and Gruggel proved to be a steady defense combination and the Cadets found them hard to get by, while the Panther forwards had very little difficulty in sifting through the Norwich defense. Douglas at goal for Middlebury, had to make only 16 stops, while Fullerton, who guarded the net for Norwich, was forced to save 36 times. This comparison gives some idea of how much the Blue and White had it over the Cadets.

The Norwich sextet, as it lined up on the ice, was practically the same aggregation that faced Middlebury last year. The Blue and White team was entirely different one than has been seen in the past. Simmons and Whittemore were missing from the attack and last year's defense combination of Bates and Bossert was also a has been, yet the boys put it all over the Norwichites just as Middlebury teams of past years have done.

Captain Kelley played his roving type of game in his usual manner and there was very few scrimmages in which he did not figure. His shots kept Fullerton on his toes every minute and on three occasions, Kelley whipped the rubber past the bulky Norwich goal-tender. In the first period, Kelley took a neat pass from Foote and whisked the disc past Fullerton for the first score. A loose puck was gathered in by the Blue and White captain in the second period and a rising ten foot shot fooled the Norwich goalie completely. Crocker fed the puck to Kelley in the last period and

DEKES HAVE SUPPER DANCE

The Middlebury Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsillon held a supper dance last Saturday evening at the fraternity house. The party was attended by about 30 couples, music being furnished by "Dick" Fenderson's Trio. Mrs. Maude O. Mason, Miss Mary C. Rosevear, Mrs. B. Yeaw, Prof. Harry G. Owen, and Prof. V. S. Goodreds were the patrons and patronesses.

Abernethy Celebration Postponed.

Due to the illness of Robert Frost, who was to be the principal feature of the program in commemoration of the birthday of Dr. Abernethy, tonight in the Abernethy wing of the Egbert Starr Library, the celebration has been postponed to some later date when Mr. Frost will be available.

D. K. E. LEADS IN CLOSE INTRAMURAL CAGE TOURNAMENT

First Week's Games Prove Interesting—Teams Well Balanced.

With the games of the first week of Intramural Basketball completed, D. K. E., leads the pack with two straight victories. A. S. P. and C. P. are tied for second place with one victory and no defeats. The teams are much better than last year and the race should be close throughout, The standing of the teams:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
D. K. E.	2	0	1.000
A. S. P.	1	0	1.000
C. P.	1	0	1.000
K. D. R.	1	1	.500
B. K.	1	1	.500
B. P.	1	1	.500
D. U.	1	1	.500
Neutrals	0	2	.000
S. P. E.	0	2	.000

D. K. E. 24, B. K. 16.

In the second game of the Intramural Basketball Tournament, D. K. E. defeated B. K., 24-16. The game was hard fought, but both teams showed lack of practice. The first half the victors were ahead 14-6. The second half was better played and much faster with the Dekes showing a better passing game and the Beta Kaps a more accurate eye for the loop. Webber at center for D. K. E., was high scorer of the game with four field goals while Chappell, D. K. E., and Hacket, B. K., each trailed with three field goals apiece.

Beta Psi 21, Neutrals 16.

In Thursday's game Beta Psi managed to squeeze out a narrow victory from the Neutrals. The Neutrals gained an early lead at the start of the game and continued to add to it throughout the first half, which ended with the score 14-8 in their favor. In the second half, Beta Psi's defense tightened and the Neutrals were only able to sink one field goal while their opponents were adding six goals and one foul shot to their previously meagre total, bringing the final score to 21-16. Hoyt and Howe each gathered four field goals for Beta Psi, Maurer of the Neutrals sank three field goals and one foul shot, while Chase also gleaned a trio of floor shots.

Chi Psi 20, D. U. 14.

In a hard fought, but rather slow game, Chi Psi defeated Delta Upsilon in the first of Saturdays trio of Intramural games. The first half was nip and tuck with neither side able to show to any advantage over the other. The score at the close of the first period was tied, 9-9.

In the second half, D. U. could pierce Chi Psi's defense for but one basket and three successful free tosses. In the meantime the Chi Psi's led by little Freddy Williams were tossing an even half dozen floor shots which were NOTICE.

College exercises are suspended from 5 p. m. January 29th to 8 a. m. February 5th except for midyear examinations as scheduled.

The student body is reminded that this is a college recess and absences should not be taken immediately preceding or following.

BARRERE LITTLE SYMPHONY TO BE HERE FEBRUARY 6

Famous Orchestra To Open Entertainment Course For Second Term.

CONCERT WILL BE AN OUTSTANDING EVENT

Artists of First Rank Make Up This "Orchestra In Miniature."

The management of the college entertainment program will start the second semester on the right foot with one of the outstanding features of the course. The famous Barrere Little Symphony Orchestra will give a concert here on Wednesday, February 6 at the Congregational church.

The Barrere Little Symphony Orchestra is one of the most famous of its kind and is in great demand for concerts. In the words of its eminent conductor, the Little Symphony is "an orchestra in miniature."

Composed of thirteen members and eleven different instruments, the orchestra possesses all the qualities of a full symphony orchestra. Each of the musicians is an artist and virtuoso of first rank. In fact they are all exmembers of the old New York Symphony Orchestra.

George Barrere, who is tripley distinguished as a conductor, an inimitably witty raconteur, and a magician of the flute, speaking of his Little Symphony, says:

"It is especially adapted to performing the more intimate and delicate works of the great masters. There are many of these which have been lying forgotten for a century or two simply because orchestras of the size and caliber for which they were composed were not available. These works are too much of the chamber music variety for the great orchestras to perform, yet they deserve to be kept alive. For our Little Symphony to attempt to play "The Ride of the Valkyries" or similar works demanding a large orchestra would be ridiculous. On the other hand it can perform some of the cameo works of Haydn, Mozart and others which a full sized orchestra could not attempt. I believe in the right frame for the right picture."

With the retinue of thirteen musicians, Barrere boldly defies superstitution. The personnel includes Saul Sharrow, concert-master; Adolf Balfer, first violin; George Raudenbusch, second violin; Guilio Harnisch, viola; Alberico Guidi, cello; Saul Levman, bass; George Possell, flute; Pierre Matthieu, oboe; Fred Van Amburgh, clarinet; Louis Letellier, bassoon; Santiago Richart, horn; Carl Heinrich, trumpet; Sam Borodkin, tympani.

Tickets will go on sale January 30, at Cushman's Store.

Dean of Women Elanor S. Ross and her mother have taken up temporary residence at the Middlebury Inn.

Pres. and Mrs. Moody To Return Saturday

The return of President and Mrs. Moody has been delayed several days due to gales and general bad weather which have prevented the boat from landing on scheduled time. According to a radio mesasge to Mrs. Powell of the President's office, Dr. and Mrs. Moody expect to land in New York on Wednesday morning; Mrs. Moody will probably return direct to Middlebury but the president expects to stay over a few days and will not be back until Saturday.

SEAMAN CHAIRMAN OF FROSH FROLIC

Committee And Date For Dance Selected; Tickets On Sale This Week.

Clyde R. Seaman of Johnstown, New York was elected chairman of the Frosh Frolic dance committee at a meeting of the Freshman class Friday in the Warner Hemicycle, A committee of 15 representing each fraternity, sorority, and the neutrals was selected to aid Mr. Seaman in making plans for the forthcoming party.

The committee immediately got under way and Saturday held a meeting in the Warner Hemicycle where they decided that the dance would be held at the Middlebury Inn on Saturday, February 9th from eight to eleven forty-five and will be sime-formal. The orchestra has not as yet been selected but bids are being received from many of the best orchestras in this vicinity, which assures that the evening will no be devoid of the best music possible. Many novelty dances and features are being planned by the committee. The dance promises to be one of the most successful Frosh Frolics ever held in Middlebury.

Mr. Seaman annuonced that tickets will go on sale this week and may be had from any member of the committee which includes: Richard Berry, Charles P. Bailey, Robert F. Burrowes, Benejamin Cohn, William E. Dorn, Wilfred Goering, William Horr, Edward S. Pike, Robert L. Miller, Eleanor Benjamin, Louise E. Brayton, Ellen Brightwell, Anna M. Coleman, and Lucille Dixon. Mr. Seaman is a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

New York Alumni Dine, January 25th.

The annual dinner of the Middlebury Alumni Association of New York City will be held Friday Evening, January 25th at the Hotel Commodore. Mr. E. W. Willcox, '04, President of the Association will preside at the dinner. President Paul D. Moody and Coach B. H. Beck are among the speakers.

Arrangements for the dinner are in charge of J. Louis Donnelly. ex-23, Chairman of the Executive Committee, 37 Wall Street, New York City.

PANTHER QUINTET CONQUERS PURPLE IN ROUGH GAME

Blue and White Overwhelms St. Michael's Five To Win 39-17.

SORENSEN IS STAR OF THE BLUE ATTACK

Johnson and Connally Come To Blows In Rough Second Half.

By WARD S. YUNKER

The fast moving Middlebury quintet won its sixth game out of eight starts last Saturday night in the McCullough Gymnasium when the St. Michael's team was subdued by the overwhelming scort of 39-17. At no time was the outcome in doubt as the Blue and White cagesters took the lead at the start and increased it at will. The game was faster than the score would indicate and was replete with roughness.

As was true in the other home game this year, the visitors scored the first points, but this was the only time that the upstaters were in the lead as Casey dropped in a long shot to tie the score and after that the Panther was never headed.

After the showing that the St. Mike boys had made against Vermont, the game was expected to be close and their showing was a disappointment to the large crowd of spectators. Physically, they were no match for the rugged Middlebury team and as far as teamwork was concerned there was no comparison. The Panther literally played rings around the Winooski team and the Blue reserves, who entered the game late in the second half, were also too much for the Purple to cope with.

The first half was all Middlebury and ended with the score 21 to 8 in their favor. Sorenson was finding the hoop with monotonous regularity while Johnson and Humeston added a few baskets to add to the avalanche. For that matter, Captain Spooner was the only one who did not score from the floor, but he added to the total by taking advantage of a free shot "Forrie" was busy holding down the attempts that the visitors made at an offensive and he did his work so well that the Purple could only score six points from the floor. Shea managed to drop in three baskets, but the rest of the upstate team had to be content with two successful throws.

Score after score was rung up by the Blue and White combine, much to the enjoyment of the spectators. Sorenson and Humeston each tossed three double-deckers which alone, was decidedly more than the entire St. Michael's score for that half. Johnson was in evidence as usual and dropped in two twin-counters and a foul. Spooner had a foul shot to his credit and Casey had a basket and a foul. The entire team played as a unit and as a unit

ONE ACTS POSTPONED UNTIL FEBRUARY 7

"Suppressed Desires" by Susan Glaspell and "Torches" by Keneth Raisbeck, the two one act plays that were to be staged this Thursday have been postponed until February 7. The action was made necessary because of the Flu epidemic. The Playhouse ventilating system is entirely too inadequate to carry away germs that may be thrown into the atmosphere by coughs and sneezes.

The Play Production Play, "The Impotance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde will be presented on February 13 and 14.

AN OPEN LETTER OF WELCOME TO PREXIE

Dear President Moody—Welcome home! We have no fatted calf to kill but we will be none the less glad to see you. From now on you will be a "prophet with honor in your own country." We missed you from the day you left and have been waiting impatiently for definite news of the date of your return.

We must admit (to our shame) that when you were here every day save for an occasional Sunday we hardly noticed your visits to other college chapels but you may be sure that henceforth we will be very jealous of any excursions to other campuses.

Prexie, we certainly will be mighty glad to have you with us again and we'll try to show our appreciation by conduct as well as by reassurance.

JANUARY 30 TO FEBRUARY 2.

Only four days where there used to ten or twelve. As we look over the successive changes in the curriculum which have made this elimination of over half the examinations possible we hardly realize that anything exceptional has taken place. But if any one had predicted a few years ago that the class of 1932 would be exempt from practically all examinations at midyears he would have been laughed at by those who think that anything in Vermont is from ten to a hundred years behind the times.

As we understand the system it is working toward a gradual eliminaton of all examinations except a "comprehensive" at the end of the senior year. This is a step which obviously cannot be made until the students show that they are ready for it, but it is one that is much closer to sensible principles of education than the faithful testing of separate sections of knowledge absorbed by a class which might be enabled to look further ahead if it were not for the ever-present test.

HARVARD SALUTES THE SMALL COLLEGE.

Harvard University has recently made a striking admission regarding the value of the so-called small college. The avowal lies in the announcement of the "House Plan" which has as its purpose the splitting up of the undergraduate body, with the exception of the Freshmen, into a number of small social groups or "houses." Harvard realizes the fact that large institutions of our country trail far behind the smaller ones in their ability to stimulate social contact and "college spirit" in its full meaning. The project now under way calls for an expenditure of $13,000,000, the gift of Edward S. Harkness of New York City, to take the form of a group of self-contained buildings, each with its own sleeping, living and dining facilities. In this way some two hundred and fifty men will be brought under the same roof. It is the University's hope to bring into contact a body of students with diverse interests who will provoke one another to think on many and varied subjects. Stimulation of undergraduates by rivalry both in athletics and scholarship should also be an ultimate result of the system, the University believes. In a word, the offerings of a great university will be combined with the benefits of the small college.

Harvard invests today in a $13,000,000 experiment to gain the advantages of the small colege. Middlebury has been successfully investing in the same thing for over 128 years, only on a different scale. Do we at Middlebury fully appreciate the benefits and heritage which are ours as a small college, and for which, in its attempt to approach them, a sister institution willingly expends a tremendous fortune?—A. COMMUNICATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CAMPUS:

Soon after I returned from the Christmas recess, I discovered that the weekly publication "Time" was missing from the magazine rack. As this happened again the next week, I asked the librarian about it. She replied that it had been discontinued.

"Time" is extremely handy to the student who is not a daily habitue of the place of books. It keeps him informed as to the latest national and foreign events, Art, Science, Literature, the Theatre, and the Cinema.

To be sure there are magazines which separately cover the above fields, but a person with limited time cannot wade through all of them for the desired knowledge.

The "Literary Digest", another weekly publication, is of no value except for its attractive covers, as few students care to hear what the "Walla Walla Independent" and the "Albuquerque Journal" have to say about the possibility of Clara Bow marrying the Prince of Wales.

"Time" is an ultra modern magazine and certainly is as mentally stimulating as "The Vermonter", "The Contemporary Review", "The Hibbert Journal", and some of the other passe publications which infest the magazine rack.

If such valuable magazines as "Time" are discontinued while $21 is annually squandered on The "Literary" Guild, one fears for the safety of the "Atlantic Monhtly". D. E. K.

Professor Davison Pleases With Readings From Frost

Prof. Wilfred Davison read selected poems from the work of Robert Frost to an interested and appreciative audience in the Old Chapel room last Friday evening. He also discussed some of the important features of Mr. Frost's poetry, and commented particularly upon the quality of his style. The poems read by Prof. Davison were chosen with the idea that they were representative of the different types to be found among the works of the celebrated New England poet, and conveyed a clear idea of the style of treatment employed in the greater part of his work. Among the poems read were selections from Mr. Frost's recently published work, "West Running Brook."

O'NEILL DISCUSSED BY ENGLISH CLUB.

Eugene O'Neill, his life and works, was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the English Club, held January 16, in the Abernethy wing of the college library. Pres. R. F. Bosworth introduced O'Neill to the members of the club with the resume of the life of this most elusive, and yet most sought after, of modern American dramatists, whose plays have been the most talked of on Broadway for several years. The most outstanding of these were described and commented upon by individuals. Doris E. Collins, '29, summarized the action and characters of "Anna Christie"; Wallace Green, '30, "Lazurus Laughs"; Helen Perry, '30, "Marco Millions"; Harold Bergman, '29, "The Hairy Ape"; Margaret E. Boyden, "Strange Interlude". Prof. Spencer E. Goodreds concluded the program with a reading from "The Hairy Ape."

Some phase of the novel will be the subject of the next gathering of the group, the topic will be decided upon by President Bosworth in the very near future.

RECREATION LEADER TO SPEAK AT MIDDLEBURY

Recreation leadership as an attractive and uncrowded field for college graduates will be described January 24-26 when Willard Sutherland of the Playground and Recreation Association of America visits the college. Mr. Sutherland represents the National Recreation School conducted by the Association in New York City, which offers a one-year course to about fifty college men and women chosen for their qualities of leadership and athletic and scholastic ability.

SAXONIAN REVIEW

The December issue of the Saxonion is chiefly notable for the publication of the prize stories of the recent short story contest. In this particular issue, the prose work far excels in quality and in quantity the poetry. The stories which were awarded the first and second prizes are interesting first of all for the unusual variety of interest which they embrace. Each is a type unto itself—each carries its own unmistakable, individual atmosphere. Miss Dyer's "The Tavern" is skillfully wrought—it has style and color and the writer has done well with an outmoded subject. The beginnings of literary craftsmanship are distinctly evident. Mr. Zuck has dealth with a subject which is of greater inherent interest than that of "The Tavern," but he lacks a sense of form and proportion in the development of his plot. His story begins well, but degenerates into chaos. Much rewriting and discriminating excision should have seemed desirable. The moral of the tale is simply bathos—certainly it did not need such obvious expression. Mr. Bergman's style is an obvious imitation of certain modern writers whose instrument may serve them. It rarely serves others. It is a pity that he did not choose to write in sentences, instead of shorthand, for he has a vivid descriptice sense—But the stories promise well. Much writing will possibly develop the latent powers each of the three authors represented in the contest.

The short poems of the issue seem to us of much higher merit than the longer narrative efforts. Mr. Greene's sonnet is sometimes a bit turgid in diction though the rhyme and meter are well sustained. Miss Massie contends nobly with a difficult mood. The prolongation of such ecstasy would test the mettle of a master. F. D. P.

WAMBA SAYS

Something ought to be done about the telephone situation at Pearson's Hall. If you want to call any one in the evening your call must be in at least two hours before you can "sneak in" on the line while someone waited a second too long. Maybe certain persons in school should not be allowed to call there during the rush hours.

The storm that caught Prexy sailing on the high seas came at a rather opportune time. It will "kind of" condition him for the first few days at Middlebury.

We mean it literally when we say, the stage is all set to meet So and So in basketball here. Did you ever sit up there? Its fun to listen to a basket ball game for a change, instead of watching it. Sometimes you can see the player's feet if the plays come to the stage end of the floor.

The taxi companies are the only group not in favor of the Scullions Ball. There's one thing a scullion will not do and that is to ride to his ball in a taxi.

At last, the Freshmen's only chance to get back at the upper classmen. They'll be selling Frolic tickets soon.

New York—(IP)—With debating ever growing in popularity at the institution, New York University has scheduled 40 debates with other colleges and universities during the winter months this year.

This reminds him of the Middlebury Debating schedule. It is so different. Must be there is no Student Life Committee at N. Y. U.

Sunday Chapel Cuts must be nearly used up by now.

As far as the "poor overworked student" is concerned, the "flu" epidemic has been a decided flop.

Middlebury professors are getting quite sarcastic lately. Wamba overheard one telling a student to "Go home and play marbles."

Why don't the librarians observe that little rule: "Silence in the Library."

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of The Campus:

There was an article in your issue of last week concerning the football prospects for next year. Several freshmen were named with the statement that I was counting on them to fill places on the team. I can see the angle of the writer since I have had some contact with sports writers. However, I wish to correct the impression that the story may have given. My knowledge of the ability of the individuals of our fine freshmen team is too limited at present to allow me to make any statement such as I was quoted as making. I am counting upon the team that won the yearling championship of the state to furnish quite a goodly number of men for the Varsity, but I am unable to tell at this time just who these men will be.

Very truly yours,
Ben H. Beck,
Coach of Football

DRIBBLINGS

Six wins out of eight starts!

The St. Mike boys seemed real sore at having to take a licking. Wonder what gave them the idea that they might win?

As we watch the Middlebury cagesters in action, we become more and more convinced that we would not want to play against Humeston. That is entirely too much work for one evening.

During practice before the game, the Panther squad tossed 31 consecutive baskets before a miss was rung up.

Coach Beck's zone defense is working better and better with each succeeding game. The St. Mike team had a tough time fathoming it.

"Johnnie" was pushed once too often.

Bullukian was not as nervous against St. Mike's and his floor work was pretty to watch. In addition, "Smooch" sank a couple of twin-deckers.

Sorenson kept up his high scoring. "Swede" seems to be better than ever this year.

Coach Beck used two complete teams in the melee.

The foul shooting was not very fruitful as both teams missed frequently.

Captain Spooner and Casey are a mean pair for any forwards to stack up against. There wasn't much St. Mike traffic getting by them.

The preliminary game brought out some nice acrobatics on the part of S. P. E. and B. K. The A. S. P. vs K. D. R. and the C. P. vs D. U. games, which were held in the afternoon, were fast and interesting. These inter-fraternity games usually prove entertaining.

The next varsity game is at Rutland on February 2, when Norwich will try to stop the Blue and White stampede. Bring on those Cadets!—W.S.Y.

Hockey Most Dangerous Sport In College

Hockey, as played by the colleges, is more dangerous than football or any other sport, that is a fact that is brought out by Joseph Stubbs, Harvard Hockey Coach.

"A doctor is in attendance at all practices and games", says Coach Stubbs, "and he has a most complete equipment of medical supplies. It might be noted that we had two very severe injuries from skate cuts last season, both of which required prompt needlework. One of the visiting players dislocated his shoulder in a game, was etherized, his shoulder reset, and strapped up without leaving the building. There are very few practices or games where the doctor leaves without having a call of his services. Hockey is a dangerous game."

Simile—As out of date as a co-eds "No".—(IP).

"Modern dietetics" says a prominent physician, rushing into print, "are responsible for most of man's stomach troubles." And here all along we had supposed it was the kind of things we eat.—(IP).

W. A. A. Class Basketball Practice Under Way

Class basketball practices are being held Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons in the gym in preparation for the inter-class games which are scheduled to be played after mid-years. Sigrid Manty '29, Catherine Pickard '30, Virginia Bland '31, and Anna Omwake '32 have been elected squad leaders in the respective classes. There is material enough in each class for at least two teams so that scrimmages are held during practices. Practically the same line-ups as last year will be used by the three upper classes although the Seniors are as yet minus a guard to fill the place of Irene Avery who will be graduated at mid-years. The freshmen class has good material which is being worked up, so that a successful season is anticipated throughout.

they were more than the St Mike boys could hope to compete favorably with.

The second half was a repetition of the first as far as scoring was concerned, but became more and more rough as the game wore on. Disconcerted at their poor showing, the St Mike team tried to win on roughness, but Spooner and Co. just thrive on roughness and it was not long before the upstaters found this out.

St. Michael's again scored the first points on a basket by Roberts, but Johnson dropped one in from the side to make things more binding for the Purple. As the score crept higher, the Winooski lads became rougher and midway in the half, Johnson and Connally the visiting center, came to blows. After being pushed all over the floor, Johnson's ire became aroused and he took a poke at Connally. Members of both teams interfered before further damage could be done and Referee O'Brien called pernonal fouls on both men and disqualified them.

Things calmed down for a few minutes, but Shea then tried some rough stuff and was spilled. At this juncture, the Middlebury reserves came on the floor and succeded in raising the score a few more notches. Bullukian sank two pretty shots and Franzoni added two more as the game drew to a close.

Sorenson was high scorer with five baskets and two fouls, but the entire Middlebury team was playing well and most of them got into the scoring column. Including this contest, the Blue and White has averaged 33 points a game which is going strong. Shea, the visiting left forward, scored ten points on five baskets and was the only St. Mike player who could find the hoop with any degree of regularity.

The Hockey Team In Action

Blue and White Hockey Team Defeats Norwich

once more the center-ice-man scored.

Crocker played right wing and played it well. He was all over the ice and proved a constant source of worry for the Cadets. His sallies around the Norwich net always produced action and the goalie had to move lively on more than one occasion to save hard shots by this capable forward.

Foote and Gruggel stopped most of the Norwich attacks before they got anywhere. None of the Cadets could seem to get by this pair with any degree of consistancy. Foote joined in the Blue and White attack on a number of occasions and gave the Cadets a bit more to think about.

First Period.

The game started slow, but warmed up after a while and Gruggel made the first shot which Fullerton saved. The going became faster as the period grew older and Fullerton was sent sprawling on more than one occasion to save some hard shot from the sticks of a Blue carrier. After 13 minutes and 5 seconds of battling, Kelley took a pass from Foote in front of the Norwich citadel and scored on a shot into the side of the netting, the puck going over Fullerton's arm as he tried to save. This period was all Middlebury. The saves were: Douglas 6, Fullerton 13.

Second Period.

From start to finish, the second period was crammed with action and saw the Blue and White sextet making numerous drives on the Norwich goal. These sallies gave rise to some torrid action, but on all but one occasion, Fullerton was able to save. Two or three times the Norwich goalie was forced to throw himself across the goal in order to prevent the rubber from sliding through. After exactly 17 minutes and 25 seconds of this period, Kelley got possession of a loose puck about 15 feet out and after dodging Hourin, the Blue and White captain let go a rising shot which whisked by Fullerton before he knew what it was all about. The remainder of the period was devoted to long shots by both teams which did no damage. Saves: Douglas 2 Fullerton 14.

Third Period.

This period saw the Norwich sextet making its greatest efforts and the action was fast. Guarnaccia and Schmidt entered into the fray for Middlebury as defense men. "Sammy" made a beautiful body-check of Hourin and sent the Cadet to ice with a thump, for which he took a 2 minute penalty. Kelley converted a pass from Crocker into a goal by a hard knee high shot. The remainder of the period was a see-saw affair. Saves: Douglas 8, Fullerton 9.

Another Illusion Shattered.

Richard Halliburton, who writes travel stories with the sprightliness of an old spinster's darling, recently displayed a letter from Governor Meriwether Lewis Walker of the Panama Canal Zone, permitting him to try to swim the 50 miles of the Canal. He started. No long-distance swimmer, this self-generator of publicity intended to interrupt his feat every time he grew tired. A soldier in a motor boat accampanied him to shoot at any obnoxious alligators. Trans-canal steamship passage was not halted. Nonetheless, the proposed stunt approached the scandalous. It costs the U. S. several hundred dollars to open the canal locks needed for the swim. At Gatun Locks Swimmer Halliburton paid 36 cents (correct charge on a tonnage basis) to be floated up the 85 ft. from Limon Bay to Gatun Lake.—from "Time"

HOWARD TALKS ON FITNESS FOR LIFE AT VESPER SERVICE

"Be a Good Neighbor And Carry Through; Never Give Up."

"No man having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God", was the text of Rev. Howard's sermon at Vespers, Sunday evening.

He said in part: "A man fit for the kingdom of God is a man fit for living, and the way to be fit is to be a good neighbor. When asked how one would inherit eternal life, Jesus answered, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy mind, and with all thy soul—and they neighbor as thyself.' 'But', the man asked, 'who is my neighbor?' And it was then that Jesus told the story of the good Samaritan. A poor man traveling the road from Jericho, was set upon by thieves and left wounded by the roadside to die. A Priest passing by assumed he was dead, and passed on, likewise a Levi; but a poor Samaritan traveling that way, of a different and despised race, bound up his wounds, took him to an inn and not content at this, saw the job through by providing that he be taken care of until he was cured.

"In spite of the impression the story has made on people's hearts, there are many people in the world today who would have done exactly as the Jew's countrymen did.

"Never know when you are beaten and don't give up. That's the spirit that makes great engineers like General Goethals. That is the doctrine that Jesus taught his followers and lived himself. He showed his realization that no man was fit who did not carry through. The Lord's Supper is to be noted as significant that Jesus gave his uttermost to the very last.

"Christianity has not been a total failure, but no one has succeeded in maintaining all its requirements. The Christian Church, as a united body of followers of Christ, has failed dreadfully. We shouldn't criticize the Church, unless we have something to offer, but it hasn't finished its job.

"Prohibition has been a failure, but it has also been called a 'noble experiment.' It has failed because people have not realized the purpose of Prohibition, or sensed the situation. It has been treated as a joke simply because it hasn't been considered a 'noble experiment.' It is up to us to carry on, and finish the job."

more than enough to win the game. Williams was high scorer with six field goals. Thiele and Schmidt of D. U. each accounted for six of the team's points.

A. S. P. 17, K. D. R. 15

The fastest and most thrilling game of the week was Saturday's second contest between A. S. P. and K. D. R. which the former won by a single field goal in the last eight seconds of play. The game was nip and tuck from beginning to end. The first half was all K. D. R. as far as scoring went and ended 13-8 in their favor. Throughout the second half the Alpha Sig's guards, Hasseltine and Hardy, allowed their opponents nary a field goal. With but a moment to play, Jacobs of K. D. R. was called upon to shoot a foul with his team one point in the rear. He sank it; a few seconds later Ashdown crept beneath the basket and dropped in a field goal just before the whistle blew giving his team the victory by the narrow margin of two points.

Freshman Ashdown, Alpha Sig forward, was the individual star o fthe game. He accounted for nine of his team's 17 points and both amused and amazed the spectators by his intricate handling of the ball. Freshman Belfonti and Embler starred forK. D. R.

B. K. 18, S. P. E. 15.

In the preliminary to the Varsity-St. Michael's game. B. K. nosed out S. P. E. 18-15. The game was undecided until the last whistle, but in spite of its close score was quite slow and sprinkled with many free shots. At the end of the first half S. P. E. was ahead 8-6 and showed good promise. The second half opened with the B. K.'s fighting to overcome the slight edge with first one team making a point and then the other until the whistle blew with B. K. victorious.

Livingston right forward for S. P. E. was high scorer with four field goals while Kelley, B. K. trailed with three.

D. K. E. 38, Neutrals 9.

Monday afternoon, D. K. E. fraternity triumphed over the Neutrals to the tune of 38-9 in a very one-sided game. The first half was all with the Dekes who made basket after basket closing the period 32-3. The second half the Neutrals came out fighting to regain their lost laurels, but managed to add only three baskets to their score while the Dekes with their second team on the floor did likewise. Webber, D. K. E., was high scorer with six field goals to his credit, while Giles Chase, right forward for the Neutrals, managed to sink three. The game was not spectacular because of its decided one-sidedness.

D. U. 43, B. P. 17

Delta Upsilon swamped Beta Psi by a score of 43-17. The first half which ended with a score of 31-3 was one-sided to the extreme. In the second half the victims turned upton their victors and actually outplayed them scoring 14 points to their opponents 12. D. U.'s points were equally divided among their regular first team and all the substitutes present. Howe of Beta Psi accounted for ten of his team's points by means of four field goals and two successful free tosses.

Dr. Wright To Speak At Vermont Society Dinner

Dr. Charles Baker Wright, professor emeritus of Rhetoric and English Literature will be one of the speakers at the Vermont Society annual dinner and dance, Monday evening, February 4, 1929, at the Hotel Plaza, New York City. The Hon John E. Weeks the first man in a great many years to receive re-election as governor of Vermont, attributable in part to his extraordinary efforts at the time of the devastating flood, will be the chief speaker. Although the legislature is in session, Governor Weeks is making a special trip to tell Vermonters in New York about the reconstruction work in areas damaged by the flood.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the dinner is composed of Malcolm J. Edgerton, Sanford H. Lane, John C. Orcutt, George McK Roberts, James W. Tyson, Carl A. Mead, ex officio and F. G. Austin, chairman.

The patronesses include Mrs. F. Guernsey Austin, Mrs. A. Barton Hepburn, Mrs. Arthur L. Janes, Miss Jessie A. Lane, Mrs. James F. McNaboe, Mrs. Carl A. Mead, Mrs. John C. Orcutt, Mrs. Henry S. Wardner, Mrs. Victor J. Williams, and Miss Jean Simpson, chairman.

In an Ohio city, the board of health met recently to consider closing all public meetings because of the flu situation. A group om ministers appeared to protest the order because it would interrupt a Billy Sunday campaign scheduled to begin the next day. The health officials listened patiently for a time, and then one arose.

"Gentlemen" he said, "we sympathise with you, but it is just too bad the two epedemics had to arrive at the same time."—(IP).
